League status awaits season finale victors

By Steve Whitney

Sunday sees the climax to ten months of hard work as Cambridge United take on Gateshead in the Promotion Final for a place in the Football League.

The U's finished second to champions Luton Town in the regular season and whilst most believe that should have been enough to take Richard Money's side back to League Two automatically (along with a third team via the play-offs), they instead have to do battle with a Gateshead outfit who only ended up three points shy of United in third after a magnificent season under experienced boss Gary Mills.

Ironically, Money is trying to emulate what his opposite number did two seasons back when Mills led York City to victory in the FA Trophy and Promotion Finals.

Sadly, and rather unfortunately, Mills was sacked a year later with York sitting four points above the relegation zone. But he has bounced back superbly with the Tynesiders and sits on the brink of a promotion 'double' with two different clubs.

Cambridge will be hoping its third time lucky in the Promotion Final, having lost out to Exeter City in 2008 at Wembley and again a year later to Torquay United who, of course, we welcome back into the non-League fold for 2014/15.

This season's finalists, however, are a rarity in that they finished second and third respectively. So many times before clubs that have ended the 46-game season in fourth and fifth have made it through to the final which is why the play-off scenario is a bit like Marmite!

The U's ended FC Halifax Town's dreams of making it back to the Football League under its new banner by winning the two-legged semi-final 2-1 on aggregate, coming back from a 1-0 first-leg deficit to win 2-0 at the R Costings Abbey Stadium, courtesy of a brace of goals from Delano Sam-Yorke, who had returned to the club with a bang having spent until January on loan with league rivals Lincoln City.

Gateshead shared a 1-1 draw in their first leg at Blundell Park against Grimsby Town, who then imploded in the return game at the International Stadium when they had Sam Hatton and Scott Neilson dismissed as the Tynesiders won 3-1 with a double from top scorer James Marwood and one from the on-loan JJ O'Donnell.

The game will be screened live on BT Sport 2 (and 2HD) from 3pm.

It has been a terrific season in the Football Conference with attendances once again showing how the competition has grown in recent years and viewing figures for live BT Sport matches also being phenomenal.

Skrill Premier Promotion Final tickets will be sold via the ticket agency 'SeeTickets'.

Predictive Preview: Cambridge v Gateshead

We've crunched the numbers from both clubs' Skrill Premier campaigns for clues as to how this match could unfold. The form book would seem to favour Gateshead, unbeaten in 14 competitive fixtures, rather than a Cambridge side that has failed to score in five of their last six outings. Form often goes out of the window in high-stakes encounters however, so let's see what their performances over the whole season can tell us.

When both teams are playing at the top of their game this contest resembles the "unstoppable force versus immovable object" scenario, with Gateshead's clinical attack up against Cambridge's resilient defence. Both these sides finished with a respectable 72 goals from their 46 Skrill Premier matches this season, but Gateshead needed 85 fewer shots to reach this total. Despite the two teams facing an almost identical number of attempts in return, Cambridge conceded 15 fewer goals: the joint lowest in the division.

If United's defence performs as it can, then today will be a tough test of Gateshead's ruthless finishing Gateshead's attack have prioritised quality over quantity to the extreme this season: they took fewer shots than all but three of their fellow Skrill Premier clubs, but champions Luton were the only side more clinical in front of goal. On average it's taken around seven and a half shots to score each Skrill Premier goal this season, but Gary Mills' men have required over two fewer. Luton are also the only team whose defence have been able to withstand more shots on average without conceding than Cambridge.

12.3 SHOTS FACED PER GOAL CONCEDED

5.3 SHOTS TAKEN PER GOAL SCORED

Don't be surprised if it starts raining crosses in the Gateshead box

If Richard Money has done his homework, he'll know about Gateshead's vulnerability from the air. Gary Mills' side conceded the Skrill Premier's greatest share of goals from headers - over a third - and over twice as many as Cambridge. United's attack has only been average in the air this season but, in a tight contest where any advantage should be exploited, a few well-aimed crosses could cause panic in the Gateshead penalty area.

Both these sides know how to defend a lead, so the opening goal could well prove decisive

Both these clubs have been among the best five in the division at closing out a lead this season, so whoever scores first will have a clear advantage here. This could favour Cambridge given that Gateshead have been twice as likely to score after the interval than before it this season - only two Skrill Premier sides have done a greater share of their scoring in the second half. Gateshead are also unlikely to score early on, with Hereford the only side in the division to have scored a smaller percentage of their goals in the opening 15 minutes of games.

Outlook

The tactical battle between Gateshead's sharp forward line and Cambridge's streetwise defence promises to be fascinating. This truly is a contest that could go either way, with each side having already beaten the other at home in the league this season and the stats showing that they each have the means to hurt the other when they play their best football.
